in Unity With Leaders "Then, again," continued Mr. Dec-

the revised covenant of the league of nations as the beginning of another happy period for the party. If the terms of the peace treaty, they say, are as satisfactory to the American people as they believe the covenant is, the future will belong to their party for a long time. Some of the Democratic executives who have been touring the Middle West, have returned to Washington convinced that the country approves the league covenant about five to one, and, therefore, they are hopeful the Republicans will continue to oppose it, although they express no doubt that the covenant and the treaty will be accepted by the Senate.

We think, therefore, that he should turn over our lines to us at once, and we will not ask a dollar from the government. We merely ask to be allowed to keep what we carn. That is a fair proposition. "Evidently Mr. Burleson has been for the benefit of the Bell Telephone and Western Union Telegraph companies. The question is: Are the American people going to allow to continue in office a man who has made such a colossal mess of the entire wire situation."

Burleson Cuts Off 1,000 Miles of R.F.D. Routes in New York

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 29 .- Rural thousand miles of service daily and eliminating upward of fifty carriers beginning Thursday, thereby saving the government $50,000 a year. The elimination of fifty carriers does not cut off all of the one thousand miles, a large part of which is to be discontinued on other routes. Many rural mail carriers will have routes nearly thirty-six miles long instead of under twenty-five, and those covering the snowbound routes in Northern New York are wondering what they will do next year.

Several Onondaga County carriers have resigned, and others have announced their intention of doing so in the fall. Farmers all over the territory are forwarding protests to Postmater General Burieson but with little hope for relief. Their Congressmen have appealed to the department in Washington but in vain. Champagne will foam over the Tennessee's prow for the last time in the history of the American navy. Hereafter, depressed officers at the navy yard said yesterday, plain water will be used to christen all ships launched. Bluejackets are uttering dire predictions as to the hoodooes that prohibition will bring the fleet.

Fifty thousand persons are expected to attend to-day's launching. Among the distinguished guests will be assistant Secretary of the Navy, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Admiral Henry T. Mayo, Rear Admiral John D. McDonald, commandant of the yard; Rear Admiral James T. Glennon, commandant of the 3d Naval District, and Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman.

The Tennessee represents several innovations in warship construction. She is said to be unsinkable and practically invulnerable against torpedo attack. She will displace 32,300 tons. Her main battery will consist of twelve fourteen-inch guns in four turrets. The super-dreadnought was designed by Rear Admiral George Eli Burd, construction officer at the navy yard, and Naval Constructor George N. Rock. The launching will take place at 9:45 o'clock.

Lacks Defenders At Hylan Hearing

Colonel Warren Leslie Is Its Only Advocate; Police and Civil Service Organizas tions Are Opposed to It the three powerful police associations—Joseph Courtneay, president of the Sergeants' Benevolent Association; Joseph P. Moran, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, and James McQueeney, president of the Lieutenants' Association—appeared against the bill.

The Civil Service Reform Association charged the measure was vicious in every line, and would be used to build somebody's personal political machine. The measure is said to be full of jokers, one of which would make every member of the proposed guard a national guardsman and a policeman combined, with all the pension benefits of the guard, although he would be exempt from civil service regulations. If Mayor Hylan does not veto the bill, Governor Smith, according to his friends, will veto it.
